

1. OUR COMMITMENT

This code of conduct aims to encourage the appropriate standards of conduct and behaviour of the directors, officers, employees and contractors (collectively called the employees) of the Company.

The Company has also adopted a Statement of Values. Together, this Code of Conduct and the Statement of Values set out the principles covering appropriate conduct in a variety of contexts and outlines the minimum standard of behaviour expected from Employees. Employees are expected to act with integrity and objectivity, striving at all times to enhance the reputation and performance of the Company.

1.1. General Principles

- a. Employees of the Company must act honestly, in good faith and in the best interests of the Company as a whole.
- a. Employees have a duty to use due care and diligence in fulfilling the functions of their position and exercising the powers attached to their employment.
- b. Employees must recognise that their primary responsibility is to the Company's shareholders as a whole.
- c. Employees must protect the assets of the Company to ensure availability for legitimate business purposes and ensure all corporate opportunities are enjoyed by the Company.
- d. Employees must not take advantage of their position for personal gain, or the gain of their associates.
- e. Directors have an obligation to be independent in their judgements.
- f. Confidential information received by employees in the course of the exercise of their duties remains the property of the Company. Confidential information can only be released or used with specific permission from the Company. Employees have an obligation to comply with the spirit, as well as the letter, of the law which affects its operations, wherever it operates, and with the principles of this code. Where the Company operates overseas, it shall comply with the relevant local laws as well as any applicable Australian laws.

Employees who have become aware of any breaches of this code should report the matter immediately to the Company Secretary, or in his absence, the Chairman. The Company Secretary has the responsibility to report the breach to the appropriate senior management and Board (where material) and to advise the relevant employee of the outcome and actions implemented. Employees should refer to the Company's Whistleblower Protection Policy in respect of reporting corrupt conduct, conduct in breach of any of the Company's policies or this Code of Conduct.

Employees who breach the Company's policies or this Code of Conduct may be subject to disciplinary action, including in the case of serious breaches, dismissal.

Suggestions for improvements or amendments of the Code can be made at any time in writing to the Company Secretary.

At all times an employee must be able to act in the interests of the Company. Where the interests of associates, the personal interest of an employee or an employee's family may conflict with those of the Company, then the employee must immediately disclose such conflict and either:

- a. eliminate the conflict, or
- b. abstain from participation in any discussion or decision-making process in relation to the subject matter of the conflict.

Information concerning the activities or proposed activities of the Company, which is not public, and which could materially affect the Company's share price must not be used for any purpose other than valid Company requirements.

1.2. Directors

The following additional principles apply to Directors of the Company and aim to ensure directors have a clear understanding of the Company's expectations of their conduct.

a. Fiduciary duties

All Directors have a fiduciary relationship with the shareholders of the Company. A Director occupies a unique position of trust with shareholders, which makes it unlawful for Directors to improperly use their position to gain advantage for themselves.

b. Duties of Directors

Each Director must endeavour to ensure that the Company is properly managed so as to protect and enhance the interests of all shareholders. To this end, Directors need to devote sufficient time and effort to understand the Company's operations.

Directors should ensure that shareholders and the ASX are informed of all material matters which require disclosure and avoid or fully disclose conflicts of interest.

c. Conflict of interest

Executive Directors must always be alert to the potential for a conflict of interest between their roles as executive managers and their fiduciary duty as Directors.

1.3. Stakeholders

The Board recognises that the primary stakeholders in the Company are its shareholders. Other legitimate stakeholders in the Company include employees, customers and the general community.

The Company's primary objective is to create shareholder value through capital growth and continued successful development of its projects.

The Company is committed to conducting all its operations in a manner which:

- a. protects the health and safety of all employees, contractors and community members;
- b. recognises values and rewards the individual contribution of each employee;
- c. employs the best available persons with the skills required to carry out vacant positions;
- d. achieves a balance between economic development, maintenance of the environment and social responsibility;
- e. maintains good relationships with suppliers and the local community; and
- f. is honest, lawful and moral.

All employees (including directors) are expected to act with the utmost integrity and objectivity, striving at all times to enhance the reputation and performance of the Company.
